Marshall Under Attack Of Soviet Press First Time

U. S. Secretary Of State Determined To Repudiate Misleading Attacks Of Soviet

SHARP REBUTTAL
MADE BY MARSHALL
By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Mar. 19.—U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall took the offensive at the Big Four council of foreign ministers today, determined to repudiate and denounce all unwarranted and misleading Soviet charges against the western Allies.

As the Big Four assembled following a lavish and friendly party given by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov last night, Marshall found himself under attack in the Soviet press for the first time.

The Communist Party newspaper Pravda took issue with the contention that democracy exists in the American occupation zone. It charged that Marshall had sought

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pennsylvania's neighboring state of Ohio sports a color system on its license plates for 1947, Pa. New observes. Instead of reversing the color scheme used last year, the new plates carry a green background with gleaming white letters. Last year's Ohio plates carried a white background with brown letters. Both plates are now being used in Ohio.

Mrs. Robert Kelly of the Harbor road reports to Pa. News that on Monday she saw a large flock of blackbirds flying south. Mrs. Kelly thinks that the birds must have decided to go to a warmer climate after finding the weather so cold here.

Several of the old cartwheel dollars are being circulated around the city in transactions. During the recent revival campaign in the city, three of the old time dollars were deposited in the collection plates evidently brought out from hiding by zealous worshippers.

Maybe the weatherman is getting ready for spring. For the first morning in quite a spell there was no new fall of snow covering the ground this morning, and temperature was just slightly under freezing. Spring is scheduled to breeze in on Friday, you will recall.

Fishermen are beginning to get quite restless. Reports of stocking of the local streams with trout, emphasize that the season will open in about a month, and that good fishing is promised in many of the district streams.

City buses were having difficult times pulling up to the curb at downtown intersections on Tuesday afternoon. Large delivery trucks blocked several of the loading zones causing the bus passengers to walk out on the street to board the buses. Traffic was slowed up somewhat as the result of the practice.

School houses of the city are taking on an Easter appearance. Pa. News has discovered in his rounds of the houses of learning. Plans are under way for extensive Easter programs, but with the current wave of sickness going through the schools some of the programs will have to be curtailed as to length. In one school in the first grade, 13 members of the class were absent on Tuesday, it was learned.

Premier Of Japan Indicates Desire That U. S. Remain Dominant In Occupation

NOT ENTHUSED ON U. N. OCCUPANCY

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Mar. 19.—Premier Shigeru Yoshida indicated today he would like to see the United States retain the dominant occupation role in Japan, rather than turn this responsibility over to the United Nations as proposed by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The premier's attitude was brought out in his answers to a series of questions submitted to him by International News Service and the NBC's correspondent, George Thomas Folster.

The questions were based on Gen. MacArthur's momentous statement of two days ago in which the occupation chief urged early conclusion of a peace treaty with Japan.

New Allocation Of U. S. Meat For Great Britain

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—(INS)—Agriculture department officials disclosed today that the United States has allocated an additional twenty-five million pounds of meat for export to Great Britain.

The British, who already have been allocated twenty-five million pounds for the first quarter of the year, must purchase the new allotment before March 31. It may be shipped to Britain after that date.

The additional twenty-five million pounds of meat earmarked for Britain will be made up largely of beef. U. S. officials said that no pork and probably no turkeys would be exported.

The new allocation is part of a program inaugurated by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to furnish enough meat to Britain to prevent a cut in the British meat ration.

Paraguay Under War Emergencies

ASUNCION, Mar. 19.—(INS)—The Paraguayan government today put into effect wartime emergency measures authorized by the official declaration that the nation was in a "state of war."

The declaration was issued by government headquarters at Asuncion. It charged that the revolution, which has swept from conception to the Brazilian border, is led by Communists who are receiving support from Uruguay and Bolivia.

Oust Talmadge As Georgia Governor

(BULLETIN)

ATLANTA, Ga., March 19.—(INS)—Georgia's Supreme court ordered Herman Talmadge to vacate the governorship today, thereby upholding the claim of Lt. Gov. M. E. Thompson to the office.

The historic decision climaxed a two-month-long politico-legal battle that virtually stymied state affairs. Talmadge occupied the gubernatorial office ever since his election by the legislature on the basis of 675 general election write-in votes.

Thompson claimed that the legislature had no right to name the 34-year-old Navy veteran to succeed his father, the late Gov.-elect Eugene Talmadge who died before assuming office.

The vote was 5 to 2.

Soviet Reveals Secret Yalta Protocol On Reparations Issue

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, March 19.—A large measure of surprise was evident today among delegations to the Moscow conference over Soviet publication of the previously secret Yalta protocol on reparations.

The official Soviet news agency Tass distributed the text after Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov read it to a session of the Big Four council of foreign ministers in support of Russia's claim of 10 billion dollars worth of reparations from Germany.

Molotov's contention, disputed by American Secretary of State George C. Marshall, was that the late President Roosevelt, former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin had agreed at Yalta that Russia should have this amount.

Text Distributed

The text as distributed by Tass in no way bears out this point. Regarding the controversial point at issue, it said:

Rural Home Is Saved From Fire

New Wilmington Firemen Prevent Destruction Of Washington Twp. Home

KENNETH NORTH HOME DAMAGED

New Wilmington fire department, responding to an appeal for help, succeeded in checking a blaze which threatened the Kenneth North farm home, on Route 956, two miles north of Harlansburg, with destruction by fire shortly after 11 o'clock this morning.

The blaze, which is believed to have started from a defective chimney, burned out of a corner of the house, causing damage of about $500. The New Wilmington department, after a heroic fight, succeeded in checking the blaze. Had there been a wind blowing, the home could not have been saved, because the firemen had to depend on water carried in cans to supplement the supply in their booster tank.

Shenango township firemen also answered the call for help, which was relayed through the New Castle department, but the fire was under control when they arrived at the scene.

Neighbors, fearing the home would be destroyed had removed the furniture from the home.

Introduces Bill For Labor Courts

Proposals Are Made For Far- Reaching System Of Labor Courts For U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(INS)—Sens. Ferguson (R) Mich. and Smith (R) N. J. today introduced legislation setting up a far-reaching system of labor relations courts.

Under the Ferguson-Smith bill, the special courts would:

1. Interpret and enforce collective bargaining agreements.
2. Interpret existing labor legislation.

The Ferguson-Smith bill would set up eleven labor relations courts districts, each with three judges two of whom must be lawyers. Two of the three would constitute a quorum to hear a case.

The labor courts would have full jurisdiction of all cases arising out of collective bargaining contract in industries "affecting commerce" and of petitions and reviews assigned to courts under the national labor relations fair labor standards and railway labor acts.

The bill would ban other federal district and state courts from handling any cases within the jurisdiction of the labor relations court.

Public Hearings On Truman's Aid Program To Open

Congressional Wheels Begin To Turn On Plan To Aid Greece And Turkey

SENATOR CONNALLY TO PRESENT BILL

BBY WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—Congressional wheels began turning today on President Truman's program of aid to Greece and Turkey and a companion measure providing direct relief to six distressed foreign countries.

Public hearings were set to start tomorrow on the 400-million dollar Greek-Turkish program while the house foreign affairs committee met today to report out its 350-million dollar relief measure.

Mr. Truman's anti-Communist bill faced the threat of amendment in the house. Rep. Mundt (R) S. D., a foreign affairs member, announced he would offer revisions which would:

Urges Revisions

1. Establish a congressional commission to supervise use of U. S. funds in Greece and Turkey.
2. Limit the use of U. S. military personnel in the two countries, probably by restricting the number.
3. Require that the FBI "screen" all civilian personnel President Truman sends to Greece and Turkey.

Testimonial For Rev. Fr. I. Koller

Assistant Pastor To Leave St. Mary's For New Duties At Indiana, Pa. Church

Parishoners of St. Mary's church, and clergymen of the city, gathered on Tuesday evening in the Catholic Center, North Beaver street, and tendered a farewell to Rev. Fr. Ignatius A. Koller, assistant pastor of St. Mary's, who leaves this week for his new assignment at St. Bernard's church, Indiana, Pa.

Fr. Koller has been in New Castle for the past two and a half years, and has since acquired a wide circle of friends. He was quite active in the Lawrence County Union of Sodalties, as well as the St. Mary's Young Ladies Sodality.

Carey Toastmaster

James T. Carey served as toastmaster for the program, which opened with Gounod's "Ave Maria" followed by an invocation by Rev. Richard Del of the New Castle hospital.

Guest soloists Mary Jones and Francis Morrissey sang "Our Best to You" and "Back Home in Indiana", both very appropriate selections. Miss Mary Ostrowski favored with a piano selection, "Polynaise". ## Common Effort For Permanent Peace Urged By Marshall

By LEON PEARSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, March 19.—The Big Four Allied Nations were called upon by Secretary of State George C. Marshall today to pull together in a common effort to establish permanent peace.

The American statesman pronounced his formula for achieving this goal in a toast offered at a state banquet tendered last night by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to visiting international delegations. Marshall said:

Urges Common Effort

"By a common effort the Allied forces reached Berlin. I hope the common effort which brought us victory in war will be followed here in making peace."

The other two visiting statesmen, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, the only one of the Big Four who has conferred directly with Stalin thus far.

Marshall Has No Stalin Date

MOSCOW, March 19.—(INS)—U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall may see Premier Joseph Stalin before the Moscow conference is over—but he has no date at the Kremlin right now.

Official American delegation sources said there was no truth to reports an appointment has been made.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault is the only one of the Big Four who has conferred directly with Stalin thus far.

Durocher Rejoins Laraine Day In Hollywood, Calif.

HOLLYWOOD, March 19.—(INS)—Leo Durocher, his lip zipped, arrived in Hollywood today from Havana and Mexico City for a reunion with actress Laraine Day, his outside-California wife.

The "Lip" shouted to newsmen: "Whatever you have to say, boys, it's a big no."

Miss Day was waiting impatiently at the airport, and as soon as Durocher was cleared he jumped in her car and they sped away.

It was not known how the baseball manager and the actress proposed to handle their living arrangement while he is in Hollywood. Since California does not recognize their marriage, Durocher, in the past has put up at a Santa Monica hotel.

He has reservations for air passage Friday to Havana, where Durocher is leading the Dodgers in spring training.

Miss Day is scheduled to return for the April 23 hearing on her divorce from Ray Hendricks.

Lewis Complies With Orders Of Supreme Court

Withdraws Notice Which Would Have Caused Coal Tieup On March 31

WAY IS NOW OPEN FOR NEGOTIATIONS (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON Mar. 19.—(INS)—All threat of a new coal walkout March 31 was removed today when John L. Lewis complied with a supreme court ruling requiring him to reinstate the United Mine Workers wage agreement with the government.

Lewis acted less than 24 hours before issuance of a formal mandate of the high tribunal, directing him to withdraw the termination notice.

The mine chief imposed the March 31 deadline for a new work stoppage when he ordered the miners back to the pits last December.

Clears Way For Parley
His action clears the way for the government to invite the miners and private coal operators to a conference to negotiate a new contract to supplant the government-union agreement when federal control of the mines ceases June 30.

Lewis sent a letter to Interior Secretary J. A. Krug informing him that the union notice of last November terminating the Krug-Lewis contract "is hereby unconditionally withdrawn."

The UMW president acted in accordance with the decision of the supreme court which directed withdrawal of the contract termination notice.

The high tribunal, in upholding contempt convictions against Lewis and UMW, reduced the $3,500,000 fine against the union to $700,000 on condition that the termination notice was withdrawn.

Brief Letter

Lewis' letter to Krug was only three lines long. It said:

"The notice of Nov. 15, 1946, terminating the Krug-Lewis agreement as of Nov. 20, 1946, is hereby unconditionally withdrawn."

It was this notice which sent the miners out on a 17-day work stoppage last fall and brought drastic government legal action to end a paralyzing shutdown on coal production.

President Asks For Extension Of Export Controls

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(INS)—President Truman told congress today that wartime export controls must be extended for one year or the United States will be unable to fulfill its international responsibilities.

The chief executive declared in a special message to congress: "This government must continue its control over the export of products in critically short supply here and abroad, in order to protect the economy of the United States as well as to discharge our international responsibilities."

Youth Is Given Life Sentence

PHILADELPHIA, March 19.—(INS)—A three-judge quarter sessions court today sentenced 15-year-old Aaron Gore of Long Branch, N. J., to life imprisonment for the fatal shooting of Patrolman Henry J. Hicks last Christmas eve.

You can sing your song of the wintry joys, you can rave of the drifting snow, you can strum your lute or begin your spiel or rattle a tune or little ditty, but for me and a little dough, I'll take for summer, say mid-July, when the skies are blue and away up high you can see a bird who is doing flips, and me, I'll be thinking of little trips; so sing your song, but they're just a bore, I'll take the summer—it's forty-four.

Launch Senior Y.M.C.A. Drive

Robert Traugh Of Central West District Is Speaker At Dinner Tuesday

Senior members of the Y. M. C. A. launched their membership effort Tuesday evening in the association banquet hall, with Robert Traugh, secretary of the central west district, the main speaker.

Mr. Traugh addressed a joint meeting of the senior and junior workers and their leaders and stressed a three-point program to make "Y" work successful.

The secretary told the 65 campaign workers that they must know their product, believe in it and do an effective job of selling it to the public. He gave the assembled members encouragement for their drive and wished them great success.

Chairmen Speak

Mr. Traugh was introduced by general chairman John Hodge, who also presented Kenneth McLure and Larry Perelman, division leaders. The "Army" and "Navy" leaders spoke briefly to their teams and captains and urged them to strive for their campaign goal.

Chairman Hodge lauded the work of the following junior workers, whose efforts in recruiting new members and renewing memberships has been outstanding in the junior divisions: Lee Pears, Dal Matthews, Dan Whiteford, Jay Rudolph, Jr., Phil Greenberg and Joe Pazak.

To date the younger workers have collected $215.50 in cash and have recruited 150 members.

Mrs. Oscar Saul and Mrs. P. White prepared the dinner which was served by junior leaders.

reopening of Japanese commerce and future control of Nippon by the United Nations.

Matter For Allies

Yoshida was asked to state his opinion regarding the suggested change from an American to an international occupation force. He replied that this was a matter for the Allies to decide.

But he inferred his preference for continued American control when he declared: "The present occupation policies have been most constructive and helpful to Japan in her national recovery along democratic lines."

Yoshida added: "Naturally, Japan does not want a situation similar to that prevailing in central Europe."

Welcome Early Treaty

Regarding Gen. MacArthur's plea for an early peace, the premier commented:

"I am positive all Japanese will welcome an early peace treaty as a fitting indication of the trust and confidence shown in them by the Allied powers—confidence that they will make the grade in the difficult climb back to the point where they would gain once more a position of respect in the community of nations."

"And I firmly believe they will live up to this trust and confidence by passing the test which will determine how well they can shoulder the responsibilities that will accompany the peace treaty."

"A peace treaty for Japan will, I believe, promote the stabilization of conditions in the Far East in general and in the world as well."

LEWIS COMPLIES WITH ORDERS OF SUPREME COURT

against the walkout. Lewis refused to comply and was cited for contempt of court.

In appealing to the supreme court, he issued back-to-work orders to the miners last Dec. 7 and told them to continue on the job until midnight, March 31.

Miners Advised

Today Lewis advised the miners as follows:

"The instruction of Dec. 7, 1946 to members of the UMW to continue production of bituminous coal until March 31, 1947, is hereby unconditionally withdrawn and all members of the UMW are hereby instructed that the said Krug-Lewis agreement is in full force and effect until final determination of the basic issues arising under the agreement."

"These actions have been taken in full accordance with the orders and directions of the district court of the United States for the District of Columbia, as affirmed by the supreme court of the United States on March 6, 1947."

"The foregoing is for your official information."

Lewis acted less than 24 hours before a formal mandate of the supreme court was scheduled to go into effect.

The high court's order—formally directing Lewis to withdraw the termination notice—was set for issuance tomorrow.

Lewis would have until March 25 to comply with the mandate.

The mine chief's action apparently insures uninterrupted coal production at least until June 30, when federal seizure of the bituminous industry ends, barring "wildcat" stoppages by his 400,000 miners.

into the strained foreign policy situation. He said he would accept the Truman legislation today. Sen. Connally (D) Tex. indicated he would introduce the legislation after Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich. foreign relations chairman, told colleagues he would not introduce the bill.

Provisions of Measure

The administration bill empowers Mr. Truman to determine the terms and kinds of assistance to Greece and Turkey. The American aid could be in the form of "loans, credits, grants or otherwise."

As an interim measure, the bill authorizes the RFC to advance 100 million dollars to the countries at the president's direction, following enactment of the Greco-Turkish proposal. That sum would be repaid to RFC from the 400 million dollar appropriation ultimately to be provided by congress.

The bill authorizes the president to detail any U. S. employee to either country, along with a "limited number of members of the military services of the United States in an advisory capacity only."

MARSHALL UNDER ATTACK OF SOVIET PRESS FIRST TIME

to cover up the alleged "fact" that democratic political minorities are deprived of representation.

There were strong indications in American conference circles that Marshall no longer will permit any such allegations to go unanswered.

New Line Of Thought

The new line of thought was demonstrated by Gen. Mark W. Clark at a meeting of the deputies appointed to draft a peace treaty for Austria.

Clark lashed at the Soviet press for its loose use of the term "fascists" in dealing with American political personalities. The four-star general, to the obvious embarrassment of Soviet Deputy Fedor Gusev, succeeded in having the word "fascists" deleted entirely from the Austrian draft.

Instead, offenders under Adolf Hitler's regime will be labelled as Nazis.

To Fight Back

Sources close to Gen. Marshall emphasized that in the opening days of the Big Four conference the chief American delegate deliberately refrained from answering charges and critical inferences levelled against American policy with respect to post-war treatment of Germany.

He did so because he wanted to avoid wasting time on polemics and minor matters. Now he feels that an important stage of the conference is approaching, and his associates say he is determined to fight back against what he considers unwarranted and misleading charges.

Marshall's sharp rebuttal yesterday of Molotov's allegation that the United States and Great Britain already have taken more than $100,000,000 worth of reparations out of Germany in the form of gold, patents and inventions marked his initial foray into the ultimate of plain speaking.

His advisers say his offensive thrusts in this direction will become more forceful and penetrating from now on.

The council's chief job today was to consider the question of a proposed German government. If all goes smoothly, Marshall is expected to propose a full day's adjournment to permit the delegates to study all suggestions before attempting to reconcile conflicting views.

Marshall's personal reaction to the Pravda charges was not known.

SOVIET REVEALS YALTA SECRETS

stages as a basis for discussion the suggestion of the Soviet government that the total sum of reparations should be 20 billion dollars and that 50 per cent of it should go to the USSR."

This mentions only that the suggestion should be taken as basis of discussion, and nothing stronger was included.

The meeting of the reparations in the text occurred between the commission in Moscow referred to Yalta conference and the Potsdam conference.

Reparations Undecided

Edwin W. Pauley, personal representative of President Truman, headed the American delegation in Moscow. At the conclusion of these discussions Pauley said:

"With respect to the amount of, and time limit on, annual recurring reparations—reparations extracted in the form of current production from year to year—no decision can be made until the character and amount of removals of industrial equipment have been determined by the Allied Control Council and the future economy of Germany is more clearly defined."

The Big Four foreign ministers now are attempting to establish what the arrangement on Germany's future economy will be.

Marshall also contends that the decisions reached at Potsdam, after the reparations commission meeting in Moscow, superseded any arrangements made at Yalta.

COMMON EFFORT FOR PERMANENT PEACE URGED BY MARSHALL

Bevin and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, stressed the importance to make of a successful outcome of the current Moscow conference.

Bevin said: "Let us hope that history will judge us as wise men and not as men who made mistakes such as were made the last time the peace in Europe was being settled."

Bidault took the occasion to toast Premier Joseph Stalin with whom he had talked personally just the night before.

Molotov Speaks Briefly

Molotov made only brief formal remarks of welcome, leaving it to Vice Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky to express Russia's desire for close friendship with the United States.

Entertaining correspondents present in the Soviet capital to report the conference proceedings, Vishinsky was asked how he felt about relations between the U. S. and Russia. He replied:

"We have been friends in the past, we are friends now and so far as ## Russia is concerned we will remain friends in the future"

"It was a big party that the Russians staged for some 500 guests in the Soviet aviation industry house where conference sessions are held."

Marshall and Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith both displayed the Soviet order of Suvorov awarded some time ago by the Russians on the right side of their dinner jackets.

Notable for its absence was the famed caviar which heretofore always has been considered a necessary part to a Russian banquet.

The entire proceedings were distinctly convivial, with everyone toasting the success of the Big Four and voicing hopes for future peace in the world.

Still The 'Ferninster'

Since he left the cabinet of President Truman, an action which met with Mr. Truman's hearty approval, Harold L. Ickes, former Secretary of the Interior, has been syndicating articles in a number of papers.

Many of his articles have sounded reasonable enough to us, but now and then he goes out on a limb, forgetting that the limb is probably saved almost through at the trunk.

In a recent utterance he makes what he apparently believes to be a serious charge. Briefly it is this, "the Republicans have now been in power and what have they done?"

Had the question been asked by a minor Democratic official in a sparsely settled back woods community it would create a laugh. Coming from a man of Mr. Ickes supposed knowledge and his many years of experience as a New Deal cabinet officer it is just a bit puzzling.

What did Mr. Ickes expect would be done in two months? Miracles? After 14 years of New Deal phantasy and whimsy, with a governmental structure that is top heavy with payrollers, surely Harold doesn't expect human beings to correct all the accumulated evils in two months and Republican congressmen are only human after all.

Not even Hercules completed his 12 tasks over night. We rather imagine cleaning the Augean stables took a little doing and compared to the mess in Washington which the Republicans have inherited from the New Deal, cleaning the Augean stables doesn't look like such a tough job.

Mr. Ickes is partially right. The Republicans have been in power two months and the miraculous hasn't happened yet. Nor will it happen in the next two months or the two after that. It is going to take time to clean up the mess. It will also take a Republican president and cabinet.

Two-Term Limit

With similar constitutional amendments safely through both branches of Congress, the American people have been assured a chance to pass on a proposal limiting the number of years any future president may serve. There should be no difficulty in ironing out differences between the two measures as both have the same goal.

To become effective, the amendment must be ratified by three-fourths of the states within the next seven years. If the Senate vote is indicative of sentiment in the country as a whole, it will meet this deadline without the slightest difficulty. Several more senators than were needed to make up the necessary two-thirds margin voted in favor of the amendment and there were a number of Democrats among them.

There were certain advantages to the old system, under which tradition barred the way to a third presidential term, which will be lost under the new amendment. The American people as a whole, and quite regardless of partisanship, probably would like to be able to return to the old arrangement.

But that is quite impossible. The tradition is no longer an effective barrier to a chief executive who seeks to perpetuate himself in office. A new one must be erected and the only feasible means available is amendment of the Constitution.

Value Received?

There is abundant food for thought in a passage from a letter on taxes sent by A. W. Robertson, chairman of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, to all members of Congress.

"You will be astonished, as I was," writes Mr. Robertson, "that I paid 37 times as much tax to the federal government as I paid to all other tax collectors (federal tax from 1942 through 1946—$746,716; all other taxes for the same period—$20,200). What is still more remarkable, this $20,200 paid for all public school facilities, all police protection, sanitary service, including street cleaning and garbage collection.

"While individual tax figures vary," he adds, "a similar comparison could be shown by practically every taxpayer in this country, whether he pays much or little to his national government."

Although Mr. Robertson obviously is in a high surtax bracket, and thus pays a relatively larger federal income tax than the average citizen, his remarks nevertheless call timely attention to the degree to which the national government has pre-empted the field of taxation.

As Mr. Robertson points out, local government units must carry the load of personal services that are essential to the health and welfare of the citizen. Yet the federal government increasingly is skimming off the cream of taxation. That is the basic reason for the financial plight of cities and local units and, to a somewhat lesser degree, of the states. They must do the work, but they are not getting the money.

Women's skirts are to be longer, but it remains to be seen whether this will get them out of slacks.

Attaché of the United Nations who can speak 32 languages has not revealed what he has heard the United States called.

Pull of the moon shifts America as much as 63 feet away from Europe in a year and no one has come up with a suggestion to increase the tug.

Enthusiasts in Sault Sainte Marie, Mich., and other points south, west and east, must be puzzled as to why they once thought it would be a good idea to become United Nations headquarters.

You're Telling Me

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Writer

The news that old Abd-el-Krim was about to be released from exile on an island, recalls what a scrap he was. Krim could take a bunch of guys on camels and armed with spears and make the opposition think they'd picked on Montgomery and his bully boys of the Eighth Army.

Old Abd-el never let the sands of the desert grow cold under his feet. He moved so fast six war camels seemed jet-propelled.

Krimmy would pounce on a Spanish troop in Morocco, sock 'em and then he'd quickly the Spaniards thought they had been kayoed by a mirage.

The Riff warlord was doing fine until 1925 when he grew bored fighting the Spanish and took a sideswipe at the French.

French had a motorized, quick-action hornet's nest that went by the name of the Foreign Legion.

The Legionnaires liked a scrap as much as did the Riff and when Abd-el asked for it they were only too glad to oblige.

By 1926 Abd-el-Krim had enough and threw in the towel. The French exiled the Riff roughneck on Reunion Island, which they furnished complete for him, including his own harem.

Throughout World War II, Krim sat on his island and chafed to get into the greatest free-for-all in history. But he was fresh out of B-29s and atomic bombs and when he had to admit that somehow an African tribesman armed with a spear and sitting on a camel, just didn't fit into the current picture.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

U. S. Is Getting Load Of Trouble

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The words "Aid To Greece" have a simple, reassuring sound. They summon up a picture of a ship laden with dried milk and fruit juice and warm clothing to relieve the aching poverty that has degraded most of Greece.

Going into Greece, we should face up to the fact that it's a lot more complicated than that. It is perhaps the most complicated political tangle of our time.

In passing it on to us, the British are unloading a lot of trouble. For one thing they are getting rid of an issue that has divided the labor government in London. Labor members of parliament on the left have repeatedly criticized the conduct of British missions in Greece. They have charged the British military and the British foreign office with supporting Greek quislings who had made themselves part of the Nazi occupation.

The latest of these charges comes from Lyall Wilkes, a young labor MP who fought in North Africa, Italy and Greece from 1942 into 1945. In a recent article in the new Statesman and Nation, liberal-Labor weekly, he makes charges based on his detailed knowledge of Greece and Greek politics.

He cites a letter from the British foreign office, written in response to demands in parliament for information, stating that 228 former members of the German-sponsored armed security battalions now hold active service commissions in the Greek army. Wilkes believes that the number is nearer 1000.

"But even if one takes the foreign office figures," he writes, "Greece remains the one country in Europe outside Spain whose army contains in positions of authority a greater number of ex pro-Nazi and collaborators than those identified with the resistance. And if the 228 were actually members of the security battalions, how many more officers must have at best been acquiescent during the occupation?"

Wilkes makes British foreign office for saying that the officers were approved by Greek boards on the basis of tests prescribed by the Greek government. The security battalions under the Nazis were used, according to Wilkes, not only for hunting down and executing men resisting the occupation, but they were also used to round up and deport Jews from Athens to extermination camps in the north.

Filthy jails are crowded with resistance men, according to Wilkes, while 27 quislings are "detained" in apartments with what, for Athens, are luxuries. This last is from an official report. The defense of the realm act adopted last summer is cruelly repressive, and the London Times said:

"There is abundant evidence that the special courts set up by recent legislation throughout the country in the interests of national security are administering a harsh law in a spirit of avowed partisanship."

There is abundant evidence that "Aid To Greece" is not just giving out dried milk nor even giving out tanks and guns. The American Missions that go into Greece are going to have to be much smarter and much more exacting than the British or they will repeat the same mistakes.

The economist for the mission sent into Greece by the UN food and agriculture organization was Mordecai Ezekiel, adviser of the bureau of agricultural economics in the U. S. department of agriculture. In his special report on Greek economic problems he said:

"Military expenditures make up such a large part of the Greek expenditure budget that it will be difficult to prevent inflationary pressures until these expenditures are materially reduced. While the armed forces cannot be reduced immediately with the political tension now prevailing in areas where immediate military operations are not under way a considerable part of the men and equipment might well be put to useful civilian work, at least part of the time, building roads and bridges, repairing ports and harbors and other productive public works."

The military takes roughly 55 per cent of a budget that is 50 per cent unbalanced. Merely to arm and train that out-of-balance army will be to invite a war.

The British spent millions of pounds in Greece and millions of man-hours, yet they failed to do more than maintain precarious order by repression. Their failure will be forgotten as we move onto the stage. But if we in turn fail, then the cumulative blame will fall on us.

COOKS AND DOCTORS

Doctors are very important members of the health department. They help to keep people well and help to cure them if they get sick. Cooks are important helpers, too. They prepare the fuel to keep the engine going.

Experienced cooks are always on the lookout for food poisoning. They know that there is continual danger of sickness from contaminated food.

They are especially wary of sandwich fillers or foods which are not served hot.

Cold chicken salad or potato salad or any such food is likely to cause trouble if it is not taken care of properly.

A good cook knows about the dangers and avoids them.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

My heart goes out to anybody who has to build a house these days. If his experience is anything like mine.

We are not building a new house, mind you, but just remodeling our "powder room," as my wife calls it.

This room is about five by seven feet in size, but since it is there primarily for the convenience of our guests, my wife decided to modernize it.

It was once a maid's bathroom, but since we have no maid with which to impress visitors, we decided to use a powder room for that purpose.

We are putting in a couple of new lighting fixtures, a new basin, a mirror, new linoleum, a new toilet, and we are having the walls and the ceiling redecorated.

We started about six weeks ago. First came the plumber. He looked serious.

"Big job," he said, "have to go down into the cellar and change the pipes around."

Next came the carpenter (the job requires a new door and the changing of a partition).

"Big job," he said, "May have to wait quite a while for the door. Has to be made to order."

The electrician came a week later. "Big job," he said, "probably have to break through the wall to find the right place for the outlets."

Next came the linoleum man. (Remember, please, the room is five by seven feet.)

He shook his head and said: "It's not a very big job, but I am booked three weeks ahead."

And finally the painter. My wife explained to him that she wanted the ceiling and the wood-work painted white, the wall on three sides in shiny black and the fourth wall a black paper with big red roses which she had seen in New York and admired.

The painter looked at my wife as if she were crazy.

"It's your house," he said gently, "as if he were talking to a preoccupied child. 'You can have it any way you want it. I don't have to live in it.'"

Well, the plumber took out the old things, but can't put the new ones in until all the other fellows are through.

The electrician has done some work. The linoleum has been laid. Now we are waiting for the door and for the carpenter to finish his part of the work, which he won't do until the door arrives.

Then comes the painter, who is waiting for the carpenter, and after the carpenter get through, the electrician is going to put in the new fixtures.

When that is all done the plumber will install the new basin (with chromium legs and towel bars) and the new toilet.

According to latest estimates, the job will be finished approximately April 15—just about the time our city friends begin to think how nice it would be to spend a week-back with the Brandeis out in the country.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

In the very near future . . . letters are being printed right now . . . a very important meeting will be held. The purpose of this meeting will be to determine just what type of War Memorial the citizens of this city . . . and going further . . . this county . . . wish to build. All veterans, civic and social organizations will be invited to send a representative or representatives to this meeting . . . Watch for the exact date . . . it will be within two weeks.

There is a lot of comment going on concerning this Memorial Matter . . . letters are coming here . . . people stop on the street . . . some mighty fine ideas are being expressed . . . Not fantastic ideas either . . . good constructive suggestions . . . We have on hand several official letters from labor, civic and veterans groups stating what type of Memorial they would like to see worked out for this county.

One portion of the county is processing a petition against the proposed suggestion now under consideration by the county commissioners. The outcome of this will be followed with keen interest by veteran groups and taxpayers throughout the county.

Remember the old Carnegie Steel Auditorium . . . maybe there were some things you didn't like about it . . . but in the overall picture it did do a mighty fine job.

And in case anyone is interested . . . your scribe has no political axe to grind concerning this matter or any other matter . . . we in no way wish to criticize any individual for the sake of that individual's character . . . if we want to say anything about anyone . . . we will do so out in the open, not standing back of a civic improvement or any other kind of an organized group. But we do feel that now is the time for every one to join hands and solve once and for all this vital problem . . . What type of War Memorial will the citizens of this county build? Let's hear your ideas.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PARENTS WRITE OF SUCCESS

It does me good to read hopeful letters which tell of successes and I believe it will do you good, too, to read some of them.

"Dear Dr. Myers: I have been a reader of your column for some years. We have a lovely little daughter whom we adopted three years ago, when she was four months old. We have carried out your methods of discipline and I am proud to say we have never had to feel ashamed of her, and we take her anywhere we go.

"Ours is a yard for children to enjoy themselves in. It is usually run over with little tots from all stations in life. Our little one is becoming a gracious hostess and a mother to them all.

Knows She Is Adopted
"Ann knows she is adopted, so do her friends. I have told them how we wanted a baby girl and we chose her from the rest so that it makes her our special little girl. The day after telling this story to her playmates, one little five-year-old boy came to me and said, 'Don't you wish you could find me in a crib so I would be special, too?'

"I spend a great deal of time playing with all my little ones but the reward is great not only for Ann but also for the other children as well as myself.

"I am always searching for ways to help me be a better mother to Ann and her playmates."

What a lovely mother she must be. Here is another letter.

"Dear Dr. Myers: In the enclosed stamped envelope would you please send me your sheets on learning the simple addition and subtraction facts?"

Mothers of Three
"May I add that I am an avid reader of your column, being the mother of three children: a boy of six and two girls ages two and three respectively. Oh yes, I have my problems, being very human and prone to err. I think one of our greatest faults as parents is loss of self-control, especially when the kids are small and their care and the housework task heavily on our already weakened strength. I have had low periods in which I have felt deeply inadequate for this important job of child rearing, but then some incident would come along and give me the necessary 'lift' to continue, as happened yesterday.

"I was washing living room walls and, without my suggesting it, my son goes down and clears the basement thoroughly while the little girls wash off a chest of drawers in the basement, used for toys. This means more to me than if he were able to give me a costly gift, which I explained to him while extending my appreciation. His little eyes fairly beamed. And wasn't that lovely experience? It gives you and me a lift to read about it."

The World and the Mud Puddles

and the Mud Puddles

A BA HALLECK

Representative Halleck of Indiana is the majority leader in the lower House. But we doubt if he speaks with authority for the Republicans in that body when he asserts as he did in a recent Atlantic City speech, that it is "richly" for anyone to expect a repeal of the Wagner Act or any serious restrictive labor legislation.

If Mr. Halleck is really expressing the sentiment of the majority of his colleagues, then the voters of the country have been swindled by the election of a Republican Congress. One obvious reason for the complete upset of the New Deal last November . . . fifth was the fact that an administration which had contributed to constant industrial turmoil. While there could be no direct expression as to what these voters expected with regard to the Wagner Act itself, it is safe to assume that the Act is not regarded by the mass of our people as indispensable. Neither Mr. Halleck nor the leaders of organized labor themselves can ignore the overwhelming demand for legislation that will curb the dictatorial power of the labor overlords.

If Mr. Halleck is not expressing the sentiment of his majority colleagues, the majority should get a new leader and make its position plain to the people. For the Republicans in Congress to dally along indefinitely on a policy of labor appeasement would be to betray the voters of the country and to follow in the footsteps of the repudiated New Deal majority. When the voters have "had enough" it is political suicide to insist on giving them more of the same thing.

JACK POT

He hit the jack pot! In a flash, in nickels, flowed a lot of cash. The little nickel tavern filled; Upon the floor the surplus spilled. On hands and knees he crawled about, To search the final nickel out.

He lifted ladies' feet to see If underneath a coin could be. And got from them some icy stares. Beneath the tables and the chairs, He spawled and squirmed till he'd regained.

All that the jack pot had contained. "This is my lucky day!" he cried. "To hit the jack pot long I've tried. Then, with the nickels in a stack, He stood right there and played them back—

And with them, several dollars more. Which left him poorer than before. (Copyright, 1947, Edgar A. Guest)

ODT Chief, Senator Blame Small For Freight Pile-Up
Murray Erred In Merger Stand AFL Leaders Contend
Billion Dollar Surplus To Help U. S. Tax Cut

Special 80 Central Press

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Col. J. M. Johnson, Chief of Defense Transportation, administrator, and Senator Clyde M. Reed (R) of Kansas, find themselves in complete agreement as to where the blame for the current critical freight car shortage should be placed.

The culprit, they say, is former Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small, who refused to allocate large quantities of steel to car production.

Appearing before a Senate subcommittee headed by Reed, Johnson divulged the texts of letters to Small and others in the administration pleading for the necessary cars. At one point he wrote John Steelman, then reconversion director: "There is going to be no agreement between Small and myself on this subject. He could not be convinced unless transportation utterly broke down."

Reed has said openly that it was "almost criminal the way Small ignored the situation. In Soviet Russia he would have been shot."

The Kansas senator is reported to have made other statements, just as caustic but more detailed, during a recent closed conference with railroad, steel and car building executives.

AFL leaders contend privately that CIO President Philip Murray made a serious mistake in not sitting down with the federation to discuss merger of the two labor groups.

They maintain that the CIO will suffer much worse than the AFL if and when congress enacts drastic labor legislation.

The AFL's reasoning is that federation unions are solidly established, some with more than 50 years of experience and history, and can withstand the shock of restrictive legislation.

One AFL official said that if congress bans the closed shop, such provisions will be removed from AFL contracts, but that in many industries the AFL employers and unions still will adhere to the established practice. That will happen less with CIO, he said.

The official asserted that proposals to ban industry-wide bargaining also would hurt the CIO much more than the AFL. The AFL is organized on a tightly-knit craft union basis and most of its dealings are with individual employers. Congress is virtually certain to vote to cut taxes, but it will not be across-the-board. It will be graduated, with the low-income taxpayer getting the biggest break percentage.

Two things pave the way for tax reduction: 1—Congress continued war-time excise taxes, boosting federal revenue more than a billion dollars over President Truman's January estimates. This would create a revenue surplus of one billion, 300 million dollars according to the president's figures, assuming there is no tax cut and the government spends 37½ billions in the next fiscal year.

2—The legislative budget, when finally sent to the White House, will call for a reduction of about five billions in the president's spending estimates.

Republicans, therefore have a "paper" program which would permit about two and a half billions to be applied toward public debt reduction even after a 20 per cent tax cut, which would trim about three and a half billions a year off revenue.

However, passage of the tax cut by congress does not mean that it will become law. The president opposes the tax cut, and probably would veto it. It is highly doubtful if it could be passed over his veto.

State Police Say:—

Suggestions, when repeated, should be considered warnings. We again suggest that when you stop your car at the curb use extreme caution if you alight from the driver's side. Better still, always get out on the curb or street side. Too many car operators carelessly jump out of their cars without looking to see if any traffic is approaching. Many times an approaching driver will have to pull beyond the center of the street to avoid striking you, and at the same time may be depriving other traffic of the right of way.

Hints On Etiquette

No well-mannered man would take a girl to a dance and then neglect her. He should dance the first and last dances with her, at least, and see that she is not left

State College Gives Figures On Publishing

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Mar. 19.—The average printing and publishing establishment in Pennsylvania employs 26 persons, eight of whom are women, and pays out $59,400 annually in wages and salaries, according to a study made public today by the bureau of business research at the Pennsylvania State college.

The bureau, in reporting that the average establishment had a capital investment of $77,000 and turned out $166,000 in products during the year, computed that wages took 22 per cent and salaries another 14 per cent of the total receipts.

The study covers some 1545 establishments in the industry in 1945 and goes back as far as 1926 when there were only 1273. Newspapers, periodicals and job printing establishments are all lumped together in the survey.

Approximately 41,503 persons were employed by the industry in 1945, the study shows, and total wages and salaries amounted to $91,817,600. In 1926 the total wages amounted to only $33,972,000 as compared to $56,281,000 in 1945, and salaries also increased from $22,440,000 in 1926 to $33,537,000 in 1945.

Pennsylvania, paced by Philadelphia and Allegheny counties, is rated the third most important state in the printing and publishing industry, and is topped only by New York and Illinois. Other counties with high ratings in this industry are Lackawanna, Dauphin, Luzerne, Lancaster, Northampton, York and Berks.

Paris, France, was founded before the Christian Era as a fortified town of the Gallic tribe of the Parisii and was originally called Lutetia.

Lions Hear Talk On Recreation

Interesting Talk On Relationship Of Recreation To Delinquency Given Tuesday

New Castle Lions Club heard an interesting talk at their luncheon meeting, in The Castleton, Tuesday noon, on the subject of the relationship of recreation to juvenile delinquency.

The speaker was Bart Richards, local newspaperman, and his talk proved of timely interest.

Carbus Walker, chairman of the arrangements for the play "Dear Ruth," which will be given on April 15, to raise funds for the club's work among the blind, announced his committee as follows: Francis S. Sowersby, J. Glenn Bell, Earl T. Ramey, Henry P. Davis, Paul G. Dingley, and S. Glenn McCracken. President Charles Lumley announced a directors meeting for Thursday.

Robert Houk, chairman of the Lions basketball committee, announced that the local team had finished in third place in the Lions tournament recently conducted at Cortland, O., for teams in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Visitors included Numa Vidal, of Sharon; and Earl Bauman, of Pittsburgh.

INTERIOR DECORATION

"We are going to paint the walls and ceiling of our living and dining rooms, both of which are fair-sized rooms with an archway between. Should the ceilings be the same as the walls or a different color? I am also going to have my furniture reupholstered. Could you suggest a color for that, as well as for my draperies? I am going to buy new dining room furniture. Have you any suggestions?"

Answer: When two rooms open into each other, their color schemes should be alike or complementary. I suggest light green for both rooms, or if you prefer light green for the living room and peach for the dining room. Although many modern decorators suggest different but harmonious colors for ceilings, my personal choice is either white or a tint of the wall color.

With either of the wall colors suggested, rose furniture would be most attractive with an occasional or fireside chair of green or possibly gold. Draperies of ivory or white background with a large floral design would be excellent with your otherwise plain decoration.

Nothing excels Duncan Phyfe mahogany dining room furniture. It is durable, timeless and in excellent taste for any type of house.

Question: I am going to paint the wood trim in the living room, dining room and kitchen and bedrooms of my Colonial house. What colors do you suggest?

Answer: For your kitchen, light gray or buff walls and trim. White throughout the other rooms is very attractive for a Colonial house.

Present your problems to Miss Markel, who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

PRE-MILKING SAVES MUCH TEDIOUS WORK

Pre-milking—the milking of cows and heifers before freshening—eliminates badly caked or swollen udders at freshening time, and saves the tedious work of trying to reduce inflammation after freshening.

This practice also helps train heifers to milking, aids in control of mastitis, allows cows to be brought on full feed quickly after freshening, and results in fewer broken-down udders.

Pre-milking should be practiced from 6 to 14 days before freshening. Less than six days will not give the desired results. The time to start is determined by the inflammation or caking in the udder.

The animal should be prepared the same as in managed milking, massaging the udder and teats thoroughly with a towel wrung out of hot water. Plenty of massage is necessary before and after milking, to obtain the best results.

The animal should be milked twice a day and milked clean each time. At first there will be only a little serum but milk will increase gradually and the cow or heifer will be producing anywhere from 15 to 40 pounds of milk daily at the time of freshening.

If milk is found in the udder when pre-milking is started it is an indication that freshening will be quicker than expected. In these cases pre-milking should be abandoned.

Since there is no colostrum in the milk at freshening time where pre-milking has been practiced, it is necessary to give the calf a teaspoon of cod liver oil twice daily. Colostrum is high in vitamin A which is needed by the calf at birth. A good way to give cod liver oil is with an oil can. Squirt about a teaspoonful back in its mouth morning and evening.

RAPS PARENTS WHO FAIL TO CORRECT CHILDRENS DEFECTS

HARRISBURG, Mar. 19.—(INS)—Penalties for parents or guardians failing to have dentists or doctors correct physical defects recommended by school health officials were proposed by Rep. Ivan C. Watkins (R) Schuylkill.

He sponsored an amendment to the student medical examination program established by the General Assembly in 1945 to require parents or guardians to furnish school officials with reports outlining corrective treatment given.

Failure to comply with recommendations for treatment not exceeding three months.

Watkins also recommended that children not able to undergo recommended treatment because of lack of funds should receive financial aid from county boards of assistance. Relief officials would be authorized to recover money under provisions of the state support law.

POTATO STOCKS LARGE IN STATE

Year's Merchantable Stock Exceeds Last Year's In Pennsylvania By Large Margin

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19.—This year's merchantable stock of potatoes exceeds last year's stock to a greater extent in Pennsylvania than any other state, the department of agriculture reports.

On March 1, growers and local dealers in the Keystone State had on hand 3,600,000 bushels of merchantable potatoes. This represented an increase of 2,000,000 bushels, or 125%, over the supply on the corresponding date last years. In the country as a whole, on the other hand, such stocks were up only 28%.

Stocks were relatively high in Maine, New York, Michigan, Colorado and Oregon as well as Pennsylvania. Maine stocks, which accounted for 37% of the nation's total supply, were up 52%.

The agriculture department says, however, that disappearance of potatoes during January and February was also relatively high, offsetting to a degree the large stocks on hand.

Duff To Place Rigid Controls On Strip-Mining

HARRISBURG, March 19.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today planned to wage a fight for strip mining controls in the anthracite as well as the bituminous coal regions.

He announced his plan to teachers of Coal township, Northumberland county, who claimed despoiling of land in stripping operations lowered property evaluations and reduced the real estate tax intake for school purposes.

"No one dislikes land damage from stripping any more than I", Duff said. "You may prepare to see a bill regulating stripping this session."

"I'm definitely in favor of striping regulations for the anthracite as well as the bituminous region", he added. "If no one else puts a bill in I'll try to sponsor one. I think it should be done."

Mandatory replacement of land over exposed coal veins would prevent seepage of acid mine wastes into streams and augment the state's streams drive as well as restore ravaged countryside.

Sen. Montgomery E. Crowe (R) Monroe said a bill was being prepared by the mines department to cover striping in both mining sections. It will have the sponsorship of coal interests and will be introduced in the upper chamber, he added.

MAN-MADE DISASTERS

Natural disasters are dramatic. They steal the front pages of the newspapers. They shake and shock us. They leave us dazed... bewildered... wondering—how did it happen? Why?

But nature compared to man—you and I and people like ourselves—is a rank amateur when it comes to sensational performance.

Last year we made 1698 disasters of our own on our own streets and highways. We killed 1698 mothers... breadwinners... children. 1698 people like ourselves—people who made homes and held homes together. 1698 people whose lives were snuffed out suddenly... tragically... needlessly. Thousands of others were injured. The economic loss ran into millions. How did it happen? Why?

It happened for no good reason. And the why is something each one of us must answer—by the way we walk and drive.

For these traffic tragedies—man-made and hand-made disasters—must be stopped. They can be stopped. YOU CAN STOP THEM. It was careless... reckless... thoughtless... driving and walking that caused them. We must change our driving and walking habits and put an end to this frightening situation. The death toll is a challenge YOU cannot longer ignore. What are you going to do about it? Whoever you are, it definitely concerns you.

SAFETY ON OUR HIGHWAYS IS A PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY. Cross streets and roads carefully. When you drive—keep your hands on the wheel... your eyes on the road... your mind on the job. Obey all traffic rules and signals. Respect the rights of other drivers and pedestrians. Remember that driving and drinking don't mix. That speed is a fast way to hospital or morgue.

At heart we are not killers... we do not want to cripple other people. Let's follow our hearts and change our driving habits to good driving habits. Let's wipe out our greatest disaster—traffic deaths and injuries.

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 19.—Broadway's dancing darling, Joan McCracken, has a big ambition, but darned if your reporter could get her to reveal it.

"I'm superstitious," she said with a twinkle in her eye. "I'm afraid if I talked about it it would jinx it; it would never come true."

Miss McCracken has been in Hollywood just a month, for her first screen role in M-G-M's "Good News".

Those who saw her in the stage musicals, "Million Dollar Baby", "Bloomer Girl" and "Oklahoma" know her talents.

Miss McCracken thinks Hollywood is wonderful—including the climate. This is understandable in view of the fact the weather has been so unusual this winter that even the natives are amazed.

"It's so different from New York," she said, "I can hardly get accustomed to the sun shining every day."

Five Selected To Hear Case

Arbitrators Selected To Hear Leivo Company Suit For $8,000 From County

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Five arbitrators, selected by the county commissioners and the Matthew Leivo company have been agreed upon to hear the case of the Leivo company against the County of Lawrence for something over $8,000 allegedly due upon a contract to repair the West Washington street bridge. The arbitrators are to be former Judge Charles Matthews, Jr., Paxton P. Pike and Ralph Herge of Ellwood City, Dr. A. H. Borland and Joseph B. Leyde.

Ordinarily such a case would be one of assumpsit in the court of common pleas and would be heard by the court and a jury. Under the Act of 1836, a plaintiff can insist upon his case being heard by arbitrators and this method was chosen by the Leivo company.

The case goes back to 1945 when the county commissioners advertised for bids to repair the West Washington street bridge. The Leivo company was low and was awarded the contract. Later it is claimed Mr. Leivo showed the county commissioners that additional repairs to the steelwork and the foundation were needed to do a complete job and the extras were ordered, the plaintiff claims.

When the bill was presented for payment, the commissioners refused the extras upon the grounds that the work was included in the specifications of the original contract. Hence the case.

In choosing the arbitrators the commissioners and the plaintiff's representative, U. A. Leivo, met Tuesday morning before Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar. The plaintiffs first nominated two men to be arbitrators, Joseph Green and City Solicitor Robert M. White. The commissioners objected to both and they were passed. The plaintiff then nominated Mayor John F. Haven and City Councilman Albert A. Hoyland to which the commissioners objected and they were passed. The plaintiffs then nominated Paxton P. Pike and Ralph Herge of Ellwood City and they were agreed to.

The commissioners then nominated Mont L. Magill and Miller Smith, to which the plaintiff objected and they were passed. M. K. Gilliland and John R. Frazier were then nominated and the plaintiff objected and the two were passed. Dr. A. H. Borland and William I. Clark were nominated and the name of Dr. Borland was agreed to. The commissioners then nominated Eugene Scanlon and Joseph B. Leyde and Mr. Leyde was accepted.

Under the law a fifth man will act as a sort of moderator had to be named with the plaintiff making the first nomination. Former Judge Charles Matthews, Jr., was nominated and the commissioners agreed to him.

The board will now be called together for a preliminary meeting after which arrangements will be made to hear the issue.

TUESDAY EVENING

Journeyman Barbers Gather For Annual Dinner And Speaking Event

Journeyman Barbers of America, Local No. 278, held their annual banquet last night at the Francis Hotel and enjoyed a sumptuous repast of spaghetti and chicken. The banquet got under way shortly after 7:30 o'clock.

Following the serving of the banquet, Jack Davis, newly elected president of the local, took over and after a few brief remarks introduced Phil Sunseri as toastmaster. He handled the job like a veteran.

Davis Suggests Picnic
Brief talks were made by the following men:
Jack McIntyre, local salesman; Frank Pazzone, secretary of the local; Herbert Samuels, Billy Fazzone, Jimmy Costello, Oliver Rodenbaugh, Gus Wiseman, Gomer Lewis, vice-president of the local, Sammy Martella and Charles "Bugs" Walther, local news writer.

President Davis advocated a Journeyman Barbers picnic this summer at Cascade Park with the wives and sweethearts of the members also attending. The suggestion met with hearty approval.

The youngest member of the local chapter present was Sammy Martella and the oldest Gus Wiseman, according to remarks by Secretary Frank Pazzone.

The following committee attended the banquet details and did a swell job: Phil Sunseri, Charles Michael and Frank Pazzone. Unable to be present last night owing to illness were two staunch members—Griff Lewis and Albert Candiotti.

Report Two Russian Soldiers Killed In Clash In Korea

SEOUL, Mar. 19.—(INS)—U. S. Army agents today were investigating an incident in which two Russian soldiers were reported killed in a battle with Korean police in the American-occupied zone of South Korea.

The clash occurred in the village of San Jikong, ten miles east of Kaesong and near the 38th latitudinal parallel which separates the Russian and American zones of occupation.

Intelligence officers said the Soviet soldiers, armed with sub-machine guns, crossed the border and entered the American zone to start an argument with the South Korea policemen who were distributing rice among villages, and the deaths resulted.

U.S. Squadron Going To Greek Waters

Will Consist Of Twelve Ships Including Aircraft Carrier Leyte,
Is Announcement

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(INS)—The navy announced Tuesday afternoon that the 27,000-ton aircraft carrier Leyte will sail from Quonset Point, R. I., for the Mediterranean area early in April. The announcement followed by a few hours the London disclosure by Admiral Robert L. Conolly, commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet in European waters, that an American squadron would be sent to Greek waters.

Conolly said the flotilla would consist of 12 ships, including the Leyte, two cruisers and six destroyers.

In Washington, the navy department said the Leyte was being sent to the Mediterranean in accordance with a previously announced plan of rotating aircraft carriers with naval units assigned to that area for training purposes. The navy department announcement said:

"It is anticipated that the Leyte will visit Gibraltar, Naples, Suda Bay, Crete, Istanbul and Alexandria during her stay in the Mediterranean area."

"The navy department has requested the state department to arrange routine clearance for such visits."

"The proposal to send a carrier to the Mediterranean area at this time has been under consideration by the navy department for the past two months."

Admiral Conolly said in London that the squadron would visit Piraeus, the Port of Athens. No mention of Piraeus was made, however, in the itinerary disclosed by the navy department.

Asserts Talmadge
Will Lose Decision
As State Governor

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 19.—(INS)—Herman Talmadge's claim that the Georgia governorship will be defeated within 10 days by a clean 7-0 decision of the state supreme court, according to a prediction by former governor Ellis Arnall.

Arnall declared today in Pittsburgh that a setback will force Talmadge to relinquish his claim on the governorship and bow to public opinion.

He added that Melvin E. Thompson, who was elected lieutenant governor in the November general election, will assume duties as governor until 1948, when the next general election is held.

Arnall's prediction was made on the eve of his lecture to a Pittsburgh audience on the governorship "BaBille."

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 19.—(INS)—An unusual Hollywood romance was revealed today with the announcement that Doreen Mulvey, 21-year-old actress from Portland, Ore., will marry Bob Hohannon, 25, stand-in for film star Jean Pierre Aumont, next April 20.

Doreen is "double" and "stand-in" for actress Maria Montez, who in real life is Aumont's wife.

The couple met four years ago, when Doreen worked with Miss Montez at Universal and Bohannon did similar chores for Aumont at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Income Taxes

ERIE, Pa., March 19.—(INS)—Harry Fields, Johnstown millinery store head, today was ordered to pay $225,881.77 in back taxes after he admitted in federal court in Erie to income tax evasions from 1935 to 1941.

In addition, Fields was fined $500 and costs, given a suspended sentence of a year and a day and placed on three years probation on the condition that he will not contest the government's suit.

At the same time the federal grand jury indicted Fred A. Klein, Turtle Creek meat packer, on a charge of income tax evasion. The indictment charged that Klein's 1944 return showed an income of $11,566, the tax on which was $2,920.

The government charged that Klein's net income was $32,536, the tax on which was $14,531.

State Tax Bills Are Reported To Legislature Today

HARRISBURG, March 19.—(INS)—Seven tax bills to raise approximately $170,000,000 were reported today to the floor of the house.

The tax legislation included four measures designed to return $133,000,000 in new levies on cigarettes, tobacco, soft drinks and malt beverages. The other bills would provide the balance by postponing for two years manufacturers' exemptions on the capital stock tax, repealing their exemptions from "carry back" provisions in the corporate net income levy and continuing the emergency gross receipts tax on utilities.

As the house prepared to recess for the week, Republican representatives Charles H. Brunner, of Montgomery, and William J. Stonier, of Lackawanna, sponsored a bill which would allow municipalities to tax any source not tapped by the state. Philadelphia would be excluded from the provisions of the proposal.

Revenues from the measures were sought by the governor to finance a record $954,000,000 budget for the next two fiscal years embracing vast improvement programs and inflated operating costs.

A measure to continue the emergency one-cent levy on gasoline expected to return an additional $18,000,000 a year for highway purposes only was held in the house ways and means committee for an amendment to provide allocations to political sub-divisions.

Senator Doubts Red Threats To Greece, Turkey

HARRISBURG, Mar. 19.—(INS)—The seriousness of the "red" threat to Greece and Turkey today was questioned by Clarence J. Brown, O., Republican congressman.

"I'm not so certain that there is such an emergency in Greece and Turkey," he asserted during a banquet at Harrisburg last night. "It's the old technique."

"Of course we're all against communists and want to keep Greece and Turkey free of them," he added. "But in my opinion we can find a lot of communism closer home than Greece."

Brown suggested it "might be well to clean up our own government."

He spoke during a testimonial dinner given Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor by the Dauphin county Republican committee. The banquet was attended by approximately 1300 persons, including legislators, state officials and party leaders.

Gov. James H. Duff and U. S. Sen. Edward Martin praised the 71-year-old state senator and veteran GOP leader for outstanding leadership during the nine years he has headed the party.

Will Have Roles In Senior Class Play On Friday

Carmie Perrotta William Nickum

Commencement at the senior high school comes this year the first week in June, but the program of social events that terminates with that formal occasion, begins this week with the public performance of the class play, "Come Over To Our House".

Carmie (Ann) Perrotta and Bill Nickum are two members of the cast who serve more as colorful, and occasionally vocal features of the setting, rather than as figures in the action. Carmie Perrotta is cast as the grandmother of the family that their friends bustle in and out of the living room of "our house". Grandmother Thompson is frequently present, observant, humorous and wise. Bill is the maestro who appears to offer a musical scholarship to the gifted son on the family, and develops his latest love at first sight with the widowed mother of the family as the object of his attentions. Sentiment with ardor is the keynote of his whirlwind courtship in the face of two rivals with less artistic temperament.

These two young people are among the best known students in the school. With high academic standing they nevertheless have found time for membership in many student organizations and for holding important offices. The list of their activities reads like a student handbook.

Carmie Ann Perrotta is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Perrotta of North Lafayette street. William Joseph Nickum is the son of Mrs. Sara Nickum of North Ashland avenue.

SHOE-SHINER TO STABILIZE WORK

NEW YORK, Mar. 19.—(INS)—A move to "stabilize" his shoe shine business was announced today by Anthony Ruopoli, manager of a two-man shoe-shine stand at La Guardia field.

Anthony said he would provide his regular customers with all the shoe shines they need for $1 a month paid in advance. He said there were three reasons for his move. He said first it is spring, second he recently filed an income tax return and thirdly "we expect a baby boy".

Congressman Sees Probable Stalin Trap For Truman

Congressman From Nebraska Asserts President Has 'Swallowed The Bait'

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(INS)—Rep. Buffett (R) Neb., today accused President Truman of having "swallowed the bait" of a "probable Stalin trap."

He said the trap was aimed at forcing the United States to extend itself in economic and military operations throughout the world.

Buffett, a pre-Pearl Harbor Isolationist, said in a House speech that when the situation became stabilized in Greece and Turkey "Communist outbreaks will be reported serious in another area (and) we will rush to that alarm."

The Nebraska declared: "A billion dollar call will come from Korea. There will be renewed demands from China. All over the world we would soon be answering alarms like an international fireman maintaining garrisons and pouring out our resources. Our position would become more over-extended than Hitler was at the height of his conquest."

Buffett maintained that American troops will eventually have to be sent to garrison Palestine and the Near East oil fields if the United States intervenes in Greece and Turkey.

Buffett said the "real goal of the current Red needling" was to force an "economic Pearl Harbor" in this country through "all this spending all over the world."

The Nebraska republican lashed out at unnamed "Republican collaborators" who, he charged, have worked with the administration to bring America "to the brink of Chaos."

IN THE OPEN

The outdoorsman who got a good look at the sun through some over-exposed film last week has his own ideas regarding the cause of continued unpleasantness called weather. Here it is St. Patrick's Day again, and not a spade turned in the good earth. That special sweet pea seed will just have to wait until the frost comes out and the ground can be put in proper shape for the planting.

Old Sol put on a very interesting show for both scientists and laymen during the past few days. Tremendous internal disturbance broke out on the solar face in a rash of sun spots, centering in two specific areas which rapidly grew in size so as to take rank among the largest "spots" of this kind on record.

These spots are whirls, like water spouts, of gases from within the sun. They are known to have powerful magnetic properties and are also thought to have a definite influence on our weather, which usually turns in a stormy, turbulent performance while the spots are in evidence. While scientists are not certain as to this latter point, the countryman looks at the daily weather fare, which has certainly been "spotty", and blames the whole thing on the goings-on up there on the solar disc.

Old Familiar Signs
Despite all this pulling and hauling by the elements in an apparent campaign against the advancing tides of another vernal season, the countryman notes the old familiar signs and portents of the changing year. Peony sprouts are peeking through the ground, and daffodils are well up in the sunlit areas, with a yellow bud showing here and there. The pussy willows are showing their new kittens to the world. Bundles of saffron bark are to be seen in the markets and soon the voice of the homestead hunter will be heard in the land.

One morning recently as I drove to work I saw the first robin, a trim male fresh from the southland. The following morning a pert red-breast caroled happily in a locust tree across the road while blowing snow soon painted the ground all about with one more coat of outdoor white. Last evening, as I toiled at clearing the garden plots for the plough, a third robin scolded vigorously from across the creek.

It was almost twilight when another familiar call-note came ringing down out of the March skies. It was the nervous killdeer, paging himself across the valley. He is always among the first of the summer birds to put in an appearance and will soon be joined by many companions in noisy courting above the valley bottoms where he stakes out his homesteading claim each season.

Time To Battle Weeds
This is the time when those pesky burdocks and teasels, big hulks of weeds which survived the scythe and cutter bar last fall, can best be hand pulled and fed to the trash fire. As the frost unlocks its roots, the burdock pulls free, revealing a shriveled tap root that had started right down to China. Their seeds are now dispersed, so these big fellows have no more desire to cling to the soil. Just try and pull them out this way while they are setting fruit!

There is a piece of roughland directly behind the house that did not receive proper attention last year. As a result the docks and orchard grass and mustard ran riot. All winter this secluded spot has served as a hangout for a sizeable flock of hen pheasants, who found there ample protection from the rough weather. We have planted some trillium and hepatica on a bank in this area. When I went to see if the snow trillium had made up its mind about blooming, some sixteen fat brown hens scurried off through the dry grass, making a tremendous racket.

The skies above the valley were busy for a time yesterday with still another evidence of the advancing season. A flock of close to one hundred crows came over, facing into the breeze, and discussing their plans as they advanced. These fellows had probably passed the winter in some protected pine-woods country, or perhaps had moved a few hundred miles south into more open weather. They were on their way back to their nesting haunts and will soon dominate the countryside, despite the many hands raised against them.

Midway in March the countryman impatiently chafes at the bit, eager to be out in the garden plots and into another growing season. Grounded by another cold, windy weekend, he sits reading by the fire and hears again the soothsayer exhorting Caesar to beware the Ides of March. With sun spots and soothsayers to contend with, how can a man get anything done?

Busy Season For Workers At South Side Institution

Neighborhood House Report Given By Christine Butler Reveals Much Activity

Another encouraging month in the work of the Neighborhood House Welfare Institution on the South Side was reported by Miss Christine Butler, worker in the institution, during the monthly board meeting of the Americanization board which took place during the week at the Y. M. C. A.

Miss Butler stated that class work was carried on throughout the month, with potholders and cushion tops being the project completed. The group learned the Ten Commandments. An English class for Greek children boasts nine young men and women who are anxious to learn English. The class meets two nights a week.

The L. T. L. class is working hard on the memory work, with the members trying for the prizes that are to be awarded to them. Prizes will be awarded in the spring. J. A. C. club members are learning the stanzas of "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner." They are also learning about birds, vegetables and flowers of this country. Evangelism club recently enjoyed a motion picture of the Christmas Story shown by Robert L. Meermans of the Y. M. C. A. He also showed slides during Sunday school of the birth and early life of Christ.

Demonstration of the work done by the daily vacation Bible school was given recently in the First Methodist church. Mrs. Walter Reneker entertained the group in her home during the month. She was hostess at a Valentine party for the older girls of the Neighborhood House.

Primary boys taught by Olive Lewis and the primary girls taught by Selma Jacobs, enjoyed a party at the Neighborhood House with games played and refreshments served. Ten members of the boys club enjoyed a monthly meeting with a social time and refreshments enjoyed. Donors to the institution during the month were Mrs. James Bale, D. A. R., Miss Mollie Davis, Miss Sarah Snyder and C. C. Sweeney. Three Bibles were given out.

The ancient mammoth was so named by the Yakuts and Tungusians who believed that the animal burrowed like a mole, since its remains were discovered underground.

GOVERNOR DEWEY
RETAINS CONTROL

New York State Legislature Adjourns With Governor Directing Policies Of Session

ALBANY, March 19.—(INS)—New York's Republican-controlled legislature ended its 1947 deliberations early today with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in control to the end of a stormy session which may have far-reaching effects upon his 1948 presidential chances.

One of its last acts was approval of a supplemental state budget of approximately six million featuring pay raises ranging from $2,000 to $5,500 for top members of the Dewey administration. The supplemental appropriations bill adds to the regular $671 million state budget proposed by the governor for 1947-48 and approved earlier by the legislature.

The session ended at 3:08 a. m. after passage of numerous minor bills. Chief topic of argument as lawmakers dispersed was the potential effect on Dewey's political future of such legislation as a "contingent" increase of cigarette and personal income taxation to pay for a proposed $400 million soldier bonus within 10 years and a sharp-toothed ban on strikes by public employees.

Police said the man admitted he had taken government checks from mail boxes in the Oakland, Squirrel Hill, Wilkensburg and Lawrenceville districts and cashed them for an unestimated amount.

Does Stomach
Gas and Bloat
Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

St. Louis Cardinals Look Like National League Champs Again

Cards Hustling In Camp, Show Proper Spirit

Carver Says "Cardinals Look Like Team To Beat For Flag This Year"

LINEUP SAME AS USED IN 1946

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Mar. 19.—There will come a time when people looking around for great ball clubs to talk about will say what about those St. Louis Cardinals?
When they asked that question they could have in mind the pennant winning Cardinals of the Dizzy Dean era or they could be thinking of these Cardinals of today.
I recently mentioned that the Cleveland Indians might have the best infield next season. With Joe Gordon playing an acrobatic second base and Lou Boudreau a spectacular shortstop the Indians almost certainly will have the best so-called keystone combination.

Cards Have Spirit
But the Cardinals look like the best all-around baseball club, including spirit.

What the Cardinals did to the Boston Red Sox last season in the world series will never be forgotten by anybody who witnessed the spectacle.

Here was an inspired baseball club which didn't boast of inspiration alone. These players had everything to do with it. They could play the game. They also had a nice-looking leader in Manager Eddie Dyer who contributed a good share of the brainwork evident in the series.

The Red Sox were top-heavy favorites on their pitching and hitting and seemed fielding skill at the start of the series. At the finish the Cardinals had dominated the series in every respect.

No Lineup Changes
In case you have forgotten here is the lineup for the Cardinals last season and now:

Joe Garagiola, and Del Rice, catchers; Stan Musial, first base;

Forget about batting averages, fielding finesse and all those other things that might show up on paper and regard this team for what it is: mainly a free-wheeling outfit that can do a little of everything but which can mostly play baseball in a huffe-scuffle never give up manner.

Have Great Outfield

The Cards have one of the greatest fielding outfields in baseball. The throwing of this trio is one of the highlights of any season. The slick precision of the infield needs no extolling here. The hitting of the club as a whole compares favorably with the best in the business today.

As for pitchers, Manager Dyer has Murray Dickson, Howie Pollet, and Cat Brecheen as spearheads with Johnny Beazley and Red Munger to help out, not to mention a seeming score of others from the farms.

This is the ball club which will dash out there next season in defense of the world championship, and quite possibly win it again.
I'm not picking the Cardinals yet. But I would hate to be forced to pick against them before some real standouts come along. Where is the stand-out—unless it is the Cards themselves.

Quarter-Final Round Of Floor Tourney Tonight

Eight Survivors Clash At Y. M. C. A. Court As Junior Cage Play Resumes

Junior tourney cage play will enter the quarter-final stage tonight at the Y. M. C. A. floor, with four interesting games on tap for the fans.

Competition for the city-county title will get tougher this evening as the higher-geared fives collide in a full card of hoop antics.
Scheduled to meet in the first game beginning at 7 p. m. are the East Brook Crows and the Shenango "Y". The Brookers routed the Irish Juniors in their first battle, 63-22, while the colored quint took the measure of the Fighting Juniors, 18-17, in a close lion.

Hi-Aces Meet Lion Reserves

One of the feature clashes of the night will pit the strong Hi-Aces (New Castle high school stars) against the South Side Lion reserves, in the 8 o'clock tilt. The Aces had little trouble dumping the Shenango High Seniors, 48-17, in their first round outing, while the Lions clashed the Dewey A. C. passers, 42-24.

The 9 p. m. game will find the Gus Little Five, winners over the Shenango Hi's Monday, 47-20, meeting the K. P. Juniors, who topped a hair-raiser from the Royals, 34-32 to advance.
In the midnight, at 10 p. m., the Yellow Jackets will tangle with the Castle Titans. The Jackets own a 27-19 win over the Scotties, and the Titans have sidetracked the Sharks, 47-18.

Semi-Finals Friday

Teams left in the tourney after tonight's action will clash in the semi-finals Friday night and the championship game will be played next Monday night.

Following the junior tilts the senior games will begin, March 26, sixteen teams to compete at the George Washington high floor.

Doors will open tonight at 6:15. There will be a small admission charge.

BRITISH TERRY McGOVERN SEEKS LICENSE TO BOX

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Mar. 19.—The United States once boasted the prowess of Terrible Terry McGovern, world's featherweight champion, who was one of the toughest fighters who ever lived.

Now England boasts a Terry McGovern, who is in this country, waiting for the New York Boxing commission to grant him license.

The British McGovern never had a professional fight but he has had 306 amateur fights. He served six years in the Royal Air Force and took time out to win both the lightweight and welterweight world boxing titles although he easily makes the 135 pound lightweight limit. Joe Louis, who saw McGovern fight during the war, says he is the finest prospect he saw over there.

Jimmy Wilde, former world's flyweight champion, and Ted Kid Lewis, another great old timer, says McGovern is the best fighter to come along in Great Britain since the days of Owen Moran and Freddie Welch.

Sammy Goldan, who managed lightweight champion Tony Canzoneri, and who is handling McGovern over here, says the 23 year old Britisher could step into the ring tomorrow with the lightweight champion and probably win.

Promoters Act Selfishly
The N. Y. commission is holding his license in abeyance pending a letter from the British board of boxing control which asked the American commission not to grant McGovern a license.

It seems the BBC which is an organization of fight promoters and managers and which has no legal status, wanted to keep McGovern over there so that they could promote him.

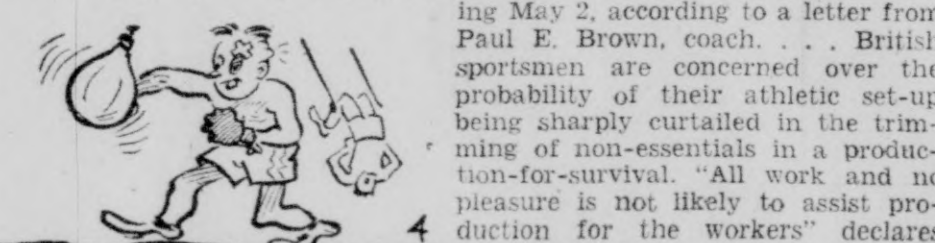

The BBC advised McGovern if he would cancel his reservations to come to America they would grant him a license. But McGovern refused. And came here. Then the BBC cabled the N. Y. commission asking it not to deal with McGovern although there apparently is nothing against the boy.

Col. Ed Egan, chairman of the N. Y. commission, indicated today he would await the BBC letter as a courtesy and then grant McGovern his license.

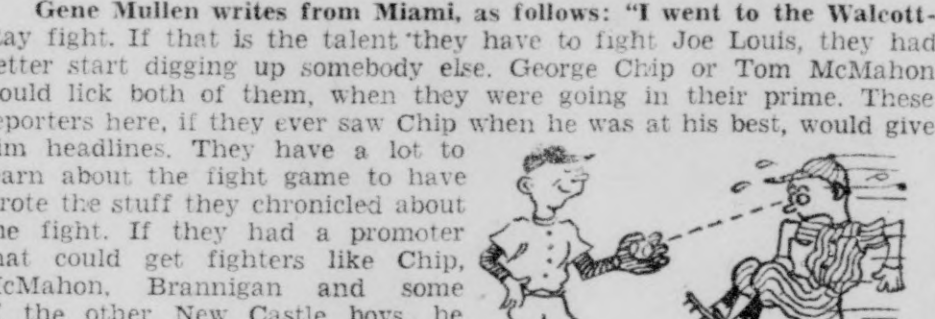

After that you will hear a great deal about McGovern.

TAMI MAURIELLO showed an utter lack of sportsmanship following his defeat by Johnny Shkor in the eighth round in Boston. When Johnny went to shake hands with Tami, the latter kicked Shkor above the thigh then sent a looping right to the head. When Johnny started to retaliate he was dragged away. Acts like these do not help the boxing game. . . . Cleveland Browns will sponsor their second annual football clinic for high school and college coaches in Cleveland starting May 2, according to a letter from Paul E. Brown, coach. . . . British sportsmen are concerned over the probability of their athletic set-up being sharply curtailed in the trimming of non-essentials in a production-for-survival. "All work and no pleasure is not likely to assist production for the workers," declares Sir Arthur Elvin, head of Wembley stadium, Ltd., major arena for the 1948 Olympics. . . . A report is current that, if Billy Conn returns to the ring he will pick on Tommy Yarnoz, brother of ex-Champ Ted, who gave Billy several bad evenings years ago. . . . Billy Herman feeling his way slowly in his first season as a major league pilot, has announced he wants no part of being a bench manager. "I want to play as long as I can and I am hoping to make our club as maybe a first, second or third baseman. If I can't make it as a regular, maybe can fill a utility role."

Gene Mullen writes from Miami, as follows: "I went to the Walcott-Ray fight. If that is the talent they have to fight Joe Louis, they had better start digging up somebody else. George Chip or Tom McMahon would lick both of them, when they were going in their prime. Those reporters here, if they ever saw Chip when he was at his best, would give me the stuff they chronicled about the fight. If they had a promoter that could get fighters like Chip, McMahon, Brannigan and some of the other New Castle boys, he would make a barrel of money. Maybe 'Shorty' Fessler would like to come down here as a promoter. You know that he knows 'what it is all about', with his experience with Jimmie Dunn." . . . Juste Fontaine will box Bobby Ruffin of New York, in Pittsburgh, March 31. . . . This is Wildlife Restoration week. . . . Cleveland Indians have a great force of tutors. For instance Bill McKechie, whose teams won four National league pennants and two world's titles, is instructing the pitchers. Rogers Hornsby, probably the greatest right handed batter of all time and the man who led the Cards to their first world's championship, is tutoring the hitters and Tris Speaker, the finest centerfielder the game has known is helping the outfielders.

Aliquippa Will Honor Washabaugh
Titan Basketball Team Will Accompany 'Pappy' To Scene Of Former Coaching Days
NEW WILMINGTON, March 19.—C. Grover "Pappy" Washabaugh head basketball coach and athletic director of Westminster college will go to Aliquippa Thursday where he will be honored by the townfolks for his rise to national fame, after having coached at Aliquippa over 25 years ago.
Accompanying their coach will be the great Titan basketball team (21 and 4) to battle the Aliquippa All-Stars in a benefit game for the St. Elijah church.
Also on hand will be Mike Milligan, head coach at Pitt, who played under Washabaugh when he was coach at Aliquippa, then known as Woodlawn, in the early twenties.

Timmons New End Coach For Pitt
PITTSBURGH, Mar. 19.—(INS)—Robert M. (Bobby) Timmons today joined the football coaching staff at the University of Pittsburgh, his alma mater, as end coach.
Timmons played with the Panthers under Jack Sutherland from 1931 through 1933. He had been football coach at Indiana State Teachers college since 1939, except for time out to serve in the navy during the war. In 1940 his team won the football title in the State Teachers College Conference in Indiana.
Mike Milligan, head coach at Pitt, had his staff complete with the addition of Timmons, except for one line coach he still sought.

St. Louis Browns Defeat Pirates
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Mar. 19.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today were still trying to figure out the scorecard of their game with the St. Louis Browns which showed them with 13 hits, no errors, but five less runs than their opponents.
The Browns took Manager Billy Herman's squad over the hurdles to the tune of 8 to 3 with six hits and three errors.
Big Al Tate was given credit for the loss after his wild pitching gave the Browns six runs in the first three innings.

Greeks 'Grudge' Battle Tonight
St. George's basketball team of New Castle will battle the St. Johns Greeks of Youngstown tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the Catholic Center floor. It was announced by Nickie Lucas. The local Greeks are confident of putting up a tough evening for the Ohioans.

Southpaw Pitcher Howard Pollett reported that he is sure he has recovered completely from the back injury that bothered him during the closing stages of last season.

Higgins Calls Out Penn State Squad For Grid Training
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 19.—(INS)—Spring football practice has opened at Pennsylvania State College and Coach Bob Higgins embarked on his 18th year as grid mentor for the Nittany Lions.
Spring drill, discontinued during the war, attracted 45 men, Higgins said.
He was non-committal on the fine points of the Lions' 1947 grid strategy but he revealed that he would supplement the single wing with the time-honored "T" formation.
"There's no intent to discard the single wing", Higgins explained.
Spring training will end in six weeks, Higgins said.
Villanova ended its most successful basketball season in five years on a sad note. The Wildcats lost to Georgetown University, 63-55, ending an 11 game winning streak.

Order Contracts For City League
Managers Will Get Contracts At Meeting Called For Thursday, March 27
An order has been placed with a local printing concern for 500 contracts for the city baseball league this summer. The contracts will be given to the managers at the meeting Thursday, March 27.
With 16 teams in the city league and 25 players on each roster there will be 400 young men playing baseball here this summer, an unprecedented total.

Williams Seeks Another Meeting With Montgomery
PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 19.—(INS)—Like Williams, the triphammer NBA lightweight champion, hung out an "under new management" sign today as he entered the stables of Philadelphia's Dapper Frank "Blinky" Palermo.
The flashy Trenton crownholder signed a three-year contract to fight for Palermo, thus ending the long feud between Williams and his former manager, Connie McCarthy of New York.
Wants Montgomery
Immediately after signing the pact, Williams voiced his desire to fight Bob Montgomery of Philadelphia, who is recognized as the lightweight king by the Pennsylvania and New York boxing commissions.
There is no love lost between the two negro fighters, and they make no bones about it. This was emphasized when Williams said: "I want to fight Montgomery, not just for the title, but to get even."
In their last engagement, he was battered severely by the Philadelphia champ before being finally counted out in the 12th round.

Slovaks Planning For Strong Team
Enthusiastic Meeting Tuesday: 28 Players Present: Steve Russell Named Manager
If enthusiasm is any criterion, the Slovak Club is going to have a "crackerjack" baseball team in the city league this coming summer. A total of 28 ball players responded last night to a meeting called at the club, Adam Eszeny, chairman of the sports committee conducted the meeting.
The veteran Steve "Snag" Russell was named to be the 1947 manager of the team, having been instrumental in turning out other great Slovak teams. Connie Zuk is the business manager of the team, and is getting busy with the various details. The Slovaks are going to make a determined bid to win the city league championship this year, after just fair success in the loop last year.
The Slovak Club membership is behind the baseball team 100 per cent and will give their unstinted cooperation to the venture.

Ryantown Team Meets Tonight
Members of the Ryantown baseball team will have a meeting this evening at the home of Robert Smiley on McCleary avenue for the purpose of discussing the coming city league season and to elect officers for the season. The meeting is called for 8 o'clock.
Ryantown is anxious to field a winning team this summer and would like to have all of the 1946 players and others desiring to play with Ryantown attend the meeting.

Duquesne High, Peabody Annex Regional Tilts
Lemmer Passers Toy With Somerset, 65-22; Highlanders Nip Titusville
Duquesne high's "Little Dukes" and Peabody's Highlanders moved up a notch in the western regional of the PIAA last night, taking the measure of Somerset (District 5) and Titusville (District 10), respectively.
The Dukans had a genuine romp against the Golden Eagles, winning 65-22, as coach Lemmer cleared his bench of performers in the rout. The Section 6 passers were too clever in their ball-handling and too sharp in their shooting for the District 5 lads. Hromaniuk, with 21 points, paced the Dukes. The game was played at the Pitt pavilion.
Peabody Winner
At the McKeesport Vocational gym Peabody of District 8 had to stage a rally to subdue Titusville in a nip and tuck ball game, 32-30.
The Crawford county quint moved in front of the Highlanders 17-11 at the intermission but Peabody roared back to outscore the Rockets 21-13 in the final periods.
By virtue of their win the Pittsburgh five will now engage Bradford, District 9 titlist, Friday at the Farrell gym in a second round fray.
Duquesne's next foe will be Westmont high who pulled an upset last night at Johnstown by tripping favored Altoona for the District 6 toga. The two quint will square off at the Pitt floor, Friday.

BEARS TRIP BARONS
CLEVELAND, Mar. 19.—(INS)—Cleveland's struggling Barons faced a bitter fight today to remain in the American Hockey league Calder Cup playoffs after dropping the preliminary series opener, 3-0, last night to the Hershey Bears at the Cleveland Arena.
Whitey Von Nieda, former Penn State basketball star, is averaging better than 25 points per game in his first season as a professional with Lancaster in the newly-organized East Penn league.

New York Fight Fans Are Ruining Sport By Antics
Bill Corum Veteran Scribe Decries Recent Happenings At Madison Square Garden
By BILL CORUM
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, March 19.—There was a time when the sports crowds in this city were the best mannered and most sporting in the world. Unhappily this is no longer true.
The majority of the fans continue to be well behaved and to show reasonable consideration for others who have come to enjoy a boxing match, a hockey, baseball or basketball game.
But a small and apparently growing group of leather-lunged show-offs has come to be more and more in evidence in recent months and, unless checked, may develop into a menace to the events themselves. Particularly boxing at the moment of writing.
No Reason For It
Boxing already suspect, due more to a wave of bad publicity, rumor and political expediency in certain quarters than any crimes of which it may have been guilty—and it has not been perfect—doesn't need much more shoving around to force it to close up shop hereabouts.
This would be considerably less than a national calamity. But I repeat that there is no real reason for it and that the sport itself has been, in the present instance, more sinned against than sinning.
Still, a few more silly and entirely uncalled for demonstrations such as followed the Levine-Kronowitz fight recently might prove to be the straws that would force the sport back into the smaller clubs exclusively. Or even force it to fold entirely.
For no reason except the obvious desire of one noisy pest to attract a little cheap attention to himself there easily could have been an incident at the end of the fight that would have brought about just enough more unfavorable publicity to upset the cauliflower cart completely.

FAIR OR FOUL

by
LAWTON CARVER
International News Service

NEW YORK, March 19.—(INS).—Through a strange series of incidents Joe Louis seems likely to wind up without an opponent for a defense of his heavyweight title during the summer. Everybody is eliminating each other.

Any plans that Tami Maruriello might have been making for a return match with Louis seem to have been blasted out as completely as Maruriello himself was last summer in his first and brief stand against the champion. Johnny Shkor took care of him and his plans Friday night.

But, at the same time, Shkor apparently took care of himself too as a challenger. He was losing when he won from Maruriello on a technical knockout at Boston.

Two Contenders
The fight thus virtually eliminated both of these two sterling gladiators from further consideration.

There are only two others under consideration, the same being Bruce Woodcock and Joe Baksi. They meet in London next month and conceivably will wipe each other out just as Shkor and Maruriello did.

Woodcock, a green young boxer of the English standup style, which means that you stand up straighter than most boxers but very often not as long, already has been belted out by Maruriello. Baksi is old Joe Akward himself, the kind who may scuffle to a win over a pretty fair fighter only to lose to a bum when least expected.

Because of greater experience, a rough way of going, a fair punch and considerable durability Baksi might outfight Woodcock and probably will, but it won't prove much.

And that about winds up the parade of challengers. There still is talk of a possible shot between Melio Bettina and Louis, as previously reported here and the Beaton, N. Y., southpaw could clinch such a chance.

He has two things going for him—a southpaw stance and the possibility that he will be the only man even remotely resembling a prizefighter by mid-summer.

These two factors are not regarded as sufficient recommendation in some boxing circles.

However, who can tell what the plans may be? The main thing is to put on a fight for the heavyweight champion and this might be attempted even without a challenger. It has been done in the past. Anybody will serve the purpose.

The main thing wrong with Shkor is that he was losing by a wide margin on points when the bout was stopped after the seventh round because of a cut suffered by Maruriello in the first round. The latter bled rather profusely from that and subsequent cuts, but Shkor's own clientele reportedly still was betting 8 to 1 on Maruriello to score a knockout as late as the third round.

The eventual winner of this fight is a six foot, three inch 220-pounder who can take a fair-sized beating without visible results, but he carries only a fair punch and boasts of little skill. Boston operatives say Louis would stiffen him in a punch, as he did Maruriello last summer.

HARLANSBURG TO DISCUSS BASEBALL

There will be a meeting of the Harlanburg baseball team Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Pittsburgh Inn to discuss plans for the coming season.

It is important that everyone interested in the team attend the meeting. The club plans to compete in the North County league this summer.

Duquesne Planning Basketball Arena

DUQUESNE, Pa., March 19.—(INS)—The city of Duquesne today made a strong bid to become the indoor sports center of western Pennsylvania following disclosure that a group of businessmen plan to build a large arena seating 12,000 persons.

The businessmen, from Duquesne, Braddock and McKeesport, have already tentative assurance by Duquesne city council for a 99-year lease on a city-owned 16-acre tract near Kenwood Park.

The arena reportedly will cost a quarter of a million dollars and will be of the hanger type.

Resume Colored Tournay Friday

The colored basketball tournay at the arena floor will be resumed Friday night at 7 o'clock with the St. Lukes A. M. E. Zion team battling the Union Baptists. The winner of this game will play the Second Baptists who defeated the Bethel A. M. E. team 40 to 30 in the opening game of the tournay.

Who Would Like To Buy School Building Or Two?

There's a golden opportunity for someone who would like a little old one-room school building or two, as the school district of Slippery Rock township has a pair of such structures they would like to sell. As a matter of fact, they will be offered at public auction on the premises on April 15. J. A. McClymonds, secretary of the school district announced today.

These schools were abandoned by the school district during the past year, and the students are now transported to the two-room school at Rose Point, in a consolidation plan. The Grant City school did not open last fall when the term started. There were not enough pupils attending school there any more to make it profitable, and then it has been difficult at various times in the past to secure an accredited teacher.

The Fox Chapel school, near the Princeton Station stop, on the old Western Allegheny railroad line, also a casualty during recent years, was closed the first of the year, when it became impossible to secure a teacher for the building. Several tried it, but gave up, due to the out-of-the-way location, and also the fact that the building had fallen into a state of dispair, making it difficult to maintain. These pupils are also being transported to Rose Point.

The Grant City school has a half-acre of ground adjoining it, while the Fox school sits in a plot containing an acre and 94 perches.

Slippery Rock township would like to consolidate all their schools in one location, but the cost of school buildings runs pretty high right now. This move is constantly being stressed by the Department of Public Instruction.

The district already has a modern high school at Princeton, but there is not enough room there now to bring in all the pupils, and five rural schools are maintained. Rose Point, which has two rooms; and Aiken, Shady Side, and Shaw, which are one-room structures. Four one-room schools have been closed in recent years, including Fairview, Sunnyside, Grant City, and Fox.
